

Educational Responsibility in Times of Social Crisis

Wann? Donnerstag, 23. Juni 2016, 11:00 - 18:30 Uhr
Wo? Leibnizstraße 1, R. 104

Programm

- 11:00 - 11:45 Uhr Educational Responsibility in Times of Social Crisis
Ulrich Hoinkes (Christian-Albrechts-Universität zu Kiel)
Timothy Ignaffo (Teachers College/Columbia University, New York)
- 11:45 - 12:30 Uhr Student Protest: Critical Discourse as a Social Threat
Michael Schapira (Hofstra University, New York)
- 13:30 - 14:15 Uhr The Natural Semantic Metalanguage - Exit from Babel? - A New Alphabet of Human Thought
Tine Junker (Oxford University)
- 14:15 - 15:00 Uhr Why Democracy Needs Different, not Just More Mathematics Education
Holly Brewster (Washington College)
- 15:30 - 16:15 Uhr Dealing with Social Threat Scenarios in the Foreign Language Classroom of German Grammar Schools - A Focus on a Literary Approach
Meike Hethy (Universität Bremen)
- 16:15 - 17:00 Uhr Discursive Constructions of Threat Scenarios in Migration Societies
Monica van der Haagen-Wulff (Universität zu Köln)
- 17:30 - 18:15 Uhr The Role of Positive Affect in the Management of Chronic Disease: Implications for Education
John Allegrante (Teachers College/Columbia University, New York)

Veranstalter: Prof. Dr. Ulrich Hoinkes, Romanisches Seminar der CAU

Gefördert von: Zentrum für empirische Bildungsforschung in den Geisteswissenschaften (ZeBiG)

Weitere Informationen: kieler-woche-symposium.lehreonline.net

Wir freuen uns auf Ihre Teilnahme!